Principal's Corner

Being a school principal is not often an easy job. Each day I make the time to get out among our student body and it truly is the best time of my day. I can only make informed decisions if I understand what our students need and want. I had the opportunity to sit in on a Student Led Conference earlier this week. It was truly a remarkable experience for me and a highlight of my week.

Here are some things I heard:

- The student was really proud of her work. She was able to dive deep into areas of study that interested her.
- She understood what her challenges are and was invested in making a plan to make those areas more attainable.
- She wants to be a veterinarian and was able to discuss career coursework options as well as science courses that would support her learning.
- And when given a choice to take an easier route, she was earnest and courageous in creating a schedule that challenged her.

It gives me great joy to walk with Lamar students on their journey to adulthood.
